DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 13-23 and 25 allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior art failed to establish retardation plate/polarizer/holographic film/diffusion film configuration in addition to the alignment film.

2. Claims 2-8 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 9 recites the limitation "alignment layer". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1, 10-12 and 24 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kubo et al. (6,124,919) in view of Nakanishi et al. (6,734,932) further in view of Wu (2002/0109810).

Regarding Claims 1, 10, 11, 12 and 24, Kubo et al. disclose a half reflection type liquid crystal display device having matched phase of transmitted and reflected light where in Fig. 2, a lower polarization plate 9 as light absorption layer, electrodes 4 and 6, color filters 12, retardation film 10, polarizing plate 11 and diffusing plate 15 are disclosed. Kubo et al. fail to disclose the required holographic film instead of the diffusion film and the required angle of incident requirement with respect to the polarizer. However, Wu discloses a half reflection type liquid crystal display where in Fig. 3, holographic film 60 is disposed on the polarizing plate 58. Furthermore, Nakanishi discloses angle of incident with respect to polarization plate in paragraphs 39 and 64.

It would have been obvious to one of having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the required holographic film and the angle of incident/polarization plate relationship in Kubo et al. as taught by Nakanishi et al. and Wu respectively in order to have a liquid crystal display device with higher performance.
